Florida Medical Malpractice Joint Underwriting Association (FMMJUA)

(Last Updated 9.20.2021 / SIP ISO)

The SIP relies on FMMJUA Specialty descriptions to assess the primary clinical exposure associated with covered clinicians. This is a key data field in the underwriting process and extremely important that it accurately reflects the services being provided by your clinicians. As you will see from the below list, some specialties are tiered based on the level of surgery that may be involved. To assist you in selecting from your options, please note the following:

NO SURGERY: Includes incision of boils & superficial fascia, suturing of minor lacerations and removal of superficial skin lesions by other than surgical excision.

MINOR SURGERY: Includes operations not considered to involve a risk to life, circumcisions, & non-major OB procedures. Excludes all surgeries and procedures that meet the criteria of major surgery.

MAJOR Surgery: Includes removal of tumors, open bone fractures, amputations, removal of any gland or organ, plastic surgery, tonsillectomy, adenoidectomy, caesarean section, and any operation in or upon any body cavity, including but not limited to cranium, thorax, abdomen or pelvis or any other operation that because of the condition of the patient or the length or circumstances of the operation presents a distinct hazard to life.
